Family-Friendly Activities

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S MUSEUM –

Spark the imagination with intriguing exhibits and innovative educational programs.

BE WITH ME PLAYSEUM – Play pretend grocery shop, stop in the pet store, make homemade toothpaste and play dress up all under one roof.

SMITHSONIAN NATIONAL ZOO –

Explore the home to more than 2,000 animals including mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish and invertebrates.

TURTLE PARK – Parents can take a break and relieve tired feet, while the kids run around in this shady playground.

BOAT TOUR ON THE POTOMAC – See the DC skyline from the water and get a unique vantage point of its famous monuments.

Tips from Samantha

The Discovery Room in the Museum of Natural History is a mom favorite because it gives kids a chance to touch and parents a place to sit down! Kids can feel the skin of an alligator, look at skeletons and try on costumes from around the world. Arrive early in the morning or late in the afternoon to avoid crowds.

Kayaking along the Potomac is a wonderful way for families to see the monuments of our Capital from a completely different perspective. The Key Bridge Boathouse in Georgetown has been in operation for 68 years and has two-person kayaks so parents can double up with younger children.
